Master of Science degree obtained from Polytechnic University of Tirana, Albania

I applied within SIGMA Agile because of the perfect timing in my academic and professional career and the compelling list of available host institutions. During my mobility at Universidade NOVA de Lisboa (UNL), I enjoyed being in an international academic and social environment. I met researchers and friends from a variety of countries, opening the doors for solid future collaborations and opportunities. Furthermore, I was given the chance to learn under the guidance of leading experts of my field. I benefited very much from the experience shared by my supervisors and other professors at UNL. Finally, I enjoyed Portuguese landscape and culture, and I learned a new language.
